Another wonderful Montgomery weekend has come and gone! What made it such a huge success was the co-operation and hard work of USKBTC members/volunteers! While Charlie and Sandy Redmon were unable to attend Montgomery due to professional demands, their preparatory work was of immeasurable value and insured the weekend's success. Thanks to everyone and thanks to all who contributed to the Trophy Funds for ALL events! The movement of the Futurity to Hatboro has proven to be Most Successful!

Thanks to Lisa Kunze and her family for jumping in on short notice to make this Futurity so memorable. Our own version of Chef Boy R Dee (Rick Feldges and his cohorts) did their usual exemplary job of preparing lunch! Thank you Rick! Next years Futurity at Hatboro will be expanded into "Kerry Day", the objective being to target the event to the "novice" puppy owners. Susan Dunivant has agreed to chair the committee developing this program. She is recruiting USKBTC members to assist her. Consideration is being given to a range of topics including ear pasting, grooming, handling, health & genetics, etc.

The CHIC DNA collection & microchip clinic at the Futurity were a huge success and well received by attendees. Unfortunately, the seminar given by Dr. Urs Geiger on "Immune – Mediated Hemolytic Anemia" had to be moved offsite which impacted attendance. This was an excellent presentation!

In addition to large confirmation entries at Hatboro (97-95) /MCKC (130), the Kimberton Agility Trials had a fantastic turnout. Lisa Frankland reports the possibility of adding rally and obedience to the events for next year is being discussed.

As usual, the boutique had exceptional and unique KBT items created and offered by very talented artists. Thanks to Carol Kearney for the Holiday & Gift cards and Jann Lane for the KBT T shirts. Both programs required considerable work and time and were well received, with the proceeds benefiting USKBTC Charitable Funds. Thank you Jamie Ashby, Barb Beuter, Jeanne Rogers and everyone who worked so hard at the boutique.

An excellent three fold brochure developed by the communications committee (Debbie Bednarek, Melanie Feldges and Reita Nicholson) with editorial input from Bob Beuter was distributed to attendees at MCKC. Additional quantities are being printed. Thank you ladies and Bob!

Our newest Life Member award recipient is Bonnie Whelehan. She has contributed much to the USKBTC, the KBT Club of Chicago and the breed through her hard work and diligence. Congratulations and thank you Bonnie!

Numerous Versatility and ROM awards were presented at the annual dinner meeting. Thanks to Bonnie Whelehan and Susan Dunivant for preparing these awards.

The USKBTC Board is in the process of addressing several issues:

- * • a modification in the USKBTC membership process to address affiliated membership and enhance mentoring of new/prospective members.
- * • a change in the committee structure to improve clarity & encourage board member responsibility in defined areas.
- * • a modification in our rescue policy. The USKBTC takes great pride in the fact the vast majority of its breeders abides by our Code of Ethics and assumes lifetime responsibility for dogs they have bred. Unfortunately a few don't. Please see Lisa Frankland's Rescue Column in this issue.

Charitable Funds:

Carl Ashby is stepping down as president. Gretchen Quinn is resigning from the board and I am stepping down as Treasurer. All three of us have held these positions since CF was established. The board is being expanded to seven and both Carl and I will remain in non-officer capacities. Dr. Donald Wilde has agreed to serve as president and Linda Pheasant as treasurer. Jim Cox agreed to serve as the seventh board member. Per USKBTC by-laws CF must have a majority of USKBTC board members. The new board will consist of Carl Ashby, Barb Beuter, Jim Cox, Jann Lane, Linda Pheasant, Tom Rogers and Donald Wilde. Thank you Gretchen for serving as secretary of CF and your dedication to the Kerry Blue Terrier.

Last, but not least, thank you Janie MacBryde and Edie Brown for editing Blueprints and qualifying a new printer.

A Letter from the Editor...

Another wonderfully hectic National specialty has passed and the rush of the holidays is upon us. Many of us turn our focus to family, friends and way too much rich food. Elsewhere in this issue, you will find an article about holiday foods and the problems they can cause for our furry friends. There are also updates from Health & Genetics, Herding, Rescue and a report on the Versatility Awards, along with the usual show results, ads for upcoming shows and new title holders.

Readers will also begin to see changes in BlueprintsSM over the next few issues. After many years in the business, our previous publisher decided to retire, a decision that left us scrambling a week before our last issue went to press. After numerous phone calls and browsing countless sample publications, I am happy to report that we now have a new publisher, and we are working with him to enhance the appearance of our newsletter. BlueprintsSM represents the USKBTC to the AKC and the membership, and we felt now was an opportunity for an update. Some things, such as cover changes, will be more noticeable while alterations in the general layout will take place over time.

One immediate change is reflected in our costs. After much thought, there has been a modest increase in our ad prices, which have been stable for a number of years. We are also switching to standard mail, offering the option of selecting first class delivery for an added fee. And there will now be an added cost to cover international postage. A reminder along with additional details about these changes will be included with renewal notices, and will also appear on our membership application.

Finally, I want to remind everyone that this is your newsletter. Please let us know what you're doing with your Kerry, send us candid photos, and suggest articles for future issues. We will use appropriate material as space permits. As always, do something fun with your special Kerry, whether it's a walk in the woods, a game of fetch, or a romp in the snow. Until next time, I hope all of you have a wonderful holiday, and that your New Year's wishes come true.

"Winterize" Your Dog

This article was provided with permission of the Public Education Department of The American Kennel Club

Cold weather brings its own safety and health concerns for both people and dogs. As a responsible dog owner, it is important to pay attention to your dog's well-being during the winter. Remember the following precautions to help keep your pet comfortable, healthy and safe all season.

Provide Plenty of Fresh Water

Your dog is just as likely to get dehydrated in the winter as in the summer. Snow is not a satisfactory substitute for water.

Provide Plenty of Food

Feed your dog additional calories if it spends a lot of time outdoors or is a working animal. It takes more energy in the winter to keep body temperature regulated, so additional calories are necessary.

Keep Your Dog's Paws Dry

Rinse your dog's feet and dry them completely after a walk. This helps avoid tiny cuts and cracked pads. A little petroleum jelly may soften the pads and prevent further cracking.

Groom Your Dog Regularly

Your dog needs a well-groomed coat to keep properly insulated.

Towel or blow-dry your dog if it gets wet from rain or snow.

Keep Your Dog Warm, Dry and Away From Drafts

Adequate shelter is a necessity. Tiles and uncarpeted areas may become extremely cold. Place blankets and pads on floors in these areas.

Watch Out for Winter Hazards

Cold: Don't leave your dog outside for long periods of time. Windchill makes days colder than actual temperature readings, and dogs are susceptible to frostbite on their ears, tails and feet.

Ice and Snow: Be extra careful when walking or playing with your dog outside. Your dog could slip or jump in a frozen lake, river or pond and get seriously injured. Snow can muffle scents, and your dog can easily get lost.

Carbon Monoxide: Don't leave your dog alone in a car. It gets too cold, and carbon monoxide from an engine left running is dangerous.

Antifreeze: Although it smells and tastes good to your dog, antifreeze is highly poisonous and can be lethal.

Frequently Asked Questions on Factor XI

1) What is Factor XI?

Factor XI is a coagulation protein, synthesized in the liver and circulating in plasma, the fluid phase of blood. It is one of many factors critical for the formation of fibrin the glue of a blood clot. F XI is part of the intrinsic coagulation cascade just like the well known hemophilia factors and thus its deficiency can lead to bleeding.

2) How common is this deficiency in the Kerry Blue Terrier breed?

The frequency of Factor XI deficiency remains unknown. While in the past there have been difficulties to get dogs screened for this deficiency, the new DNA test has not yet been embraced by the KBT owners and breeders. Few dogs have been screened and some were screened because relatives were diagnosed with the bleeding disorder. It would be helpful to the breed to screen a random group of champion and breeding KBTs to further determine the prevalence.

2) What symptoms will the affected dog have?

Many factor XI deficient dogs remain asymptomatic just like people with this disorder. There is no risk for spontaneous bleeding but rather induced by trauma, surgery, or illness. Dogs may show signs of hemorrhagic gastroenteritis and particularly prolonged post-traumatic and surgical bleeding. They typically may not bleed until 1-3 days post-surgery. It would be helpful to know of any bleeding problems in any KBT tested in order to further define the bleeding risk.

3) How is this inherited in the Kerry Blue Terrier? What symptoms will the carrier dog have?

The mode of inheritance is still not completely understood. It was said this was a dominant trait with incomplete penetrance while it might be more a recessive trait. With dominant traits there are no carriers. With recessive disorders carriers are by definition asymptomatic. Based upon our screening results it appears that only homozygous affecteds are at risk of bleeding.

4) How can bleeding be prevented in the affected dog when surgery is necessary?

Factor XI deficient dogs may not excessively bleed at each surgery or after each trauma. However, they are at increased risk of bleeding. Therefore, the veterinary surgeon's utmost attention to hemostasis is important. Furthermore, fresh frozen plasma or cryopoor plasma could be used in severe cases of hemorrhage or preventatively when delicate neuron or other surgery is performed and any bleeding is undesirable and difficult to control.

5) What is the accuracy of the DNA test and cost of testing for Factor XI?

The DNA test is the most accurate genetic test available and is superior to most other tests used regularly in veterinary and human medicine. However, rarely errors may occur due to misidentification of animals, lab and reporting errors – all due to human errors. The charge is $75 per dog which is supporting the screening of the subsidized and not-for-profit Josephine Deubler Genetic Disease Testing Laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania (PennGen @ <http://www.vet.upenn.edu/penngen>).

TRAINING PAST THE PUPPY STAGE

By Margo Steinman

Puppy training should blend into adult training. There are several concepts (or "rules") that you should be aware of when training your Kerry (or any other dog), remembering that training methods have markedly changed over the years. The emphasis now is on positive reinforcement. I certainly feel that a Kerry should be corrected with the collar if he deliberately ignores or incorrectly performs a command (exercise), but constant jerking on the lead, especially if the dog doesn't understand why he is being jerked, will cause the Kerry to "shut down" and refuse to work. And he certainly should be firmly corrected if he shows any signs of aggression towards other dogs, or people.

I tailor the method of training to the individual dog. Some dogs are food or toy motivated, while others will respond well to praise. One method does not work well for all dogs; I use a combination of techniques, including food, toys, praise, collar, etc. A sensitive, or "soft" dog may not respond well to many firm corrections, while a stubborn, dominant, or aggressive dog may require some.

1. Kerries have short attention spans. It is better to break a training session up into five or ten minute segments two or three times a day, rather than one long 30 or 40 minute session.
2. First teach your dog a command, such as "sit". This takes repetition and patience, as you show the dog what to do. Once he understands the command, and is performing it on his own, you can correct him if he doesn't do it.
3. Give only ONE command. If the dog doesn't immediately respond, place him in the correct position and praise or reward him. If you give multiple commands, the dog may decide to wait until the third or fourth command before responding. A prompt response to a command could save the dog's life.
4. All training should be done on lead. You cannot follow up on a command if you are unable to control the dog, and once he learns he can escape without obeying you, you have lost the battle.
5. Copious praise in a light, happy voice is essential. A trainer friend of mine once said that when training [outdoors] unless your neighbors think you're crazy, you're not praising enough!
6. Using treats and toys as a reward when a dog has successfully completed an exercise is good positive reinforcement, but don't treat or use toys all the time, or in a fixed sequence (every third time, for example) as the dog may refuse to work if the treat is not there. Dogs can count! Vary the intervals between treats, but always praise the dog immediately when it performs the exercise correctly. At the end of a lesson, "jackpot" the dog with extra treats, toys and praise.
7. Quit when you are ahead. When the dog performs the exercise correctly, praise and treat him and go on to something else. Kerries are smart and get bored very quickly. There are only so many times one will sit before thinking "I just did this. Why do I have to do it again?" And I don't feel that a dog should be "forced" into misbehaving so you can correct it.

8. When the dog has learned to focus on you, distractions-heeling around other dogs, or pieces of food, loud noises, children, etc. can prepare your dog for the obedience ring, or unexpected situations when the dog needs to be under your control.

9. For training, use an obedience collar (a choke type or a martingale), and a six foot leather or web lead. I prefer leather or nylon collars as they won't damage the coat. I see NO justification in using an electronic collar, and I have never used one or a pinch collar.

10. Never use an obedience command when training for conformation or when the dog is in the show ring. Kerries can tell the difference between a show lead and an obedience collar and lead.

11. You can teach your dog virtually all of the basic commands indoors (or outdoors), but should train under different conditions and locations, and where there are distractions. A dog that obeys only under certain conditions or in specific areas is not really trained. An obedience class is essential, as a good instructor will work with both you and the dog, especially on timing of praise and corrections.

You need to train the dog several times a week, integrating old and new exercises.

12. Having someone train your dog for you usually doesn't result in a well trained dog. You must understand how to give a command, what the dog is supposed to do, and how to correct the dog. You must also follow up by working the dog regularly. Going to class trains you to train your dog, and builds up a bond between the two of you.

13. The basic commands are sit, down, stay, heel, and come. I also teach my dogs to "wait" before they go out a door, jump into or out of a car, or up or down a flight of stairs; "easy"- slow down, don't pull on the lead (when not in heel position); "leave it"- ignore food or distractions; and "off"- don't jump on me or the furniture. They also jump on the bed, into the car, on the grooming table, and into the bathtub on command. My release command at the end of an exercise is "OK".

14. Train the dog stepwise, beginning with one command, then adding another one. Vary the sequence of the exercises in your training session. You do not have to train every day; sometimes it helps to skip a day or two. If you walk your dog (it's great exercise for both of you) you can integrate the obedience exercises into the walk.

15. Never train when you are tense, annoyed, upset, etc. Training should be enjoyable and fun for both you and your Kerry.

A well trained dog is a constant joy. and you can take him anywhere. It's a great advertisement for our breed, and also shows the "general public" the value of obedience training - that dogs do not have to be out of control menaces, ready to jump on children or other dogs.

SAN DIEGO KERRY BLUE TERRIER CLUB HELPS FIRE RELIEF EFFORTS

SAN DIEGO, CA OCTOBER 25, 2007: Kerry Blue Terrier Club of San Diego, Inc. Club President Edward Yingling announced today that members from the Club have signed up to participate in volunteer relief efforts with local agencies who are rescuing and recovering animals from the devastating fires ravaging Southern California. Club members have signed up to be support volunteers and/or foster homes with local relief agencies in San Diego, Temecula and San Juan Capistrano. Some members actually drove a specially equipped rescue van Wednesday night from Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego to Temecula, California (70 miles) offering help and donations to the various relief centers located along the route. "I am very proud of our members and their efforts to volunteer and help in the relief efforts" said Edward Yingling. In addition, the Club has raised and donated approximately $500 in food and equipment.

Rescue News

New Rescue Policy At the October board meeting, the governors voted overwhelmingly to support the following change to our Rescue Policy:

The USKBTC takes great pride in the fact that the majority of its breeders abide by our Code of Ethics and will re-home dogs they have bred. Unfortunately some don't. Therefore, after Board review, any person who refuses to accept responsibility for a dog that they bred/co-bred or placed (e.g., stud fee puppy or puppy back) will have the dog's name and registration number, if known, published in Blueprints and on the Club's website. The breeder or other responsible party, if a Club member, will no longer be able to list puppies or mature dogs for sale on the USKBTC web site.

What does this mean? First, the board members and the Rescue volunteers who came up with this policy, most of whom are breeders themselves, recognize the fact that placements can go wrong and dogs end up in need of re-homing for a lot of different reasons, and that this alone does not make someone an irresponsible breeder. That is determined by how the breeder handles the situation, and there are many ways breeders can intervene to prevent one of their dogs from ending up requiring rescue, including working with the owner to solve problems or find a new home, and taking back the dog if necessary. USKBTC Rescue, and many other rescue groups, will contact breeders and give them the chance to take responsibility; USKBTC Rescue will also help members recover their dogs from shelters and rescues that are less breeder friendly or that the breeder cannot get to, as well as providing names of prospective owners to members and Chapter Clubs looking to place dogs. But please don't make your dogs somebody else's problem!

The complete text of the USKBTC's updated Rescue Policy should be posted on the Club website by the time this issue of Blueprints is out.

3 Biting Dogs There's a superstition about things both good and bad coming in threes, and that was certainly the case in the week following my return from Montgomery! The first was an e-mail I received via the Club website: a distraught owner in Arizona reported that his six year old male Kerry behaved aggressively towards visitors, had bitten people before, and had most recently attacked their plumber, who required a trip to the emergency room for stitches. Neutering, training, and confining the dog had not worked; the owner maintained that his dog was absolutely wonderful with family and begged us to help him find a suitable home. Unfortunately, a dog with this sort of track record can not be safely placed with anyone, nor can Rescue risk the tremendous liability involved with fostering and placing any Kerry that is a known biter. The owner first said he would try placing the dog "with full disclosure" himself, but after talking with the breeder and some Club members in his area, reluctantly concluded that the only reasonable choice was to humanely euthanize the dog.

I next received a phone call from a volunteer for another rescue organization: the owner of a ten month old male puppy in Colorado had contacted her saying that the puppy was out of control and starting to bite. The family had several young children, the husband had reneged on his promise to help with the puppy, and the wife had neither the time nor energy to train, groom, and exercise a young terrier! Because of the circumstances and the dog's tender age, both of us felt this little boy deserved a closer look, as did his breeder, a USKBTC member, who, when notified of the problem, immediately agreed to take him back. The last report I got was that the pup is a "typical Kerry boy," who responded quickly once he understood the rules.

The third situation was also not a cut and dried bite case: the owners (or more accurately the parents of the grown man who had originally purchased the dog from its breeder) of an intact five year old male sent an e-mail asking for help after the dog rushed at and bit a teenage pet sitter when she entered their home at night and apparently let him out of his crate without turning on any lights. Other details all pointed to a serious mismatch between this Kerry and people who had ended up with a dog they never wanted and couldn't handle. So, like the puppy in the previous scenario, I felt that this boy merited a closer look. However, the fact that he had bitten someone made him more of a liability than Rescue could deal with (the dog had already been turned away by at least one other rescue group). I advised the owner that his best chance was if his breeder was willing to evaluate and place him herself. The owner contacted the breeder, a former USKBTC member, who worked with Empire's rescue chair to find someone to take the dog. Let's all hope that the dog's behavior can be managed and that this new owner has a lot more terrier savvy than the old one!

And a Few Other Rescues An Oklahoma man relinquished two of his Kerries, a 2 year old male and a 1 year old bitch, to USKBTC Rescue in August. He had purchased these two, along with a 3 year old bitch, from a commercial breeder back in February, purportedly because he felt sorry for them, paid a groomer to shave them down, and kept these three intact dogs together in his backyard with just a trampoline for shelter and no further grooming or veterinary care for six months, until pressured by family members to give them up. Although he denied that he intended to breed them, he continually asked me why they hadn't produced puppies! The two dogs, renamed Opie and Molly, were filthy, malnourished, matted to the skin, and infested with worms, fleas, and ticks. Both of them were suffering from ehrlichia (a very serious tick-borne infection which can be fatal if not treated), and Opie had demodectic mange. It's been a long, hard road getting them healthy, but also extremely gratifying. Both these dogs have wonderful temperaments, and I am preparing to place Opie with his new family as Blueprints goes to press. Molly was also scheduled to be placed the same week, but that home fell through at the last minute so I am looking once again.

The other bitch, called Mia, wasn't as lucky. The owner insisted on keeping her, supposedly as a pet, saying she had "the best lines of any of them." All three of these dogs, though unrelated to each other, were produced by puppy mills, out of imported parents. Mia's sire was the Kerry who made news a couple years ago when his European breeder paid over $3000 at auction to buy him back after mistakenly selling him to a US puppy mill, but not before he left some kids behind to carry on the family name! These people are not stupid, folks—they research the names of top dogs and kennels around the world, and know the value that the dog-buying public places on pedigrees that include these names and champion lines. But getting back to Mia, the owner reported that she suffered convulsions and was "real lethargic" after he treated her with 3 different flea products in a belated attempt to clean her up, but a month later had still not taken her to a vet. He has since stopped answering phone calls, and I fear the worst. And all because she had the best lines of any of them....

And, although this is our primary purpose, USKBTC Rescue doesn't just take in Kerries and find new homes for them. Often we have the much-easier but equally satisfying opportunity to either provide advice or assistance that allows an owner to keep their dog, or we help members recover or rehome their dogs. Special thanks are in order to Floranne Etheridge and Lynn Duckett, for helping recover a 10 year old dog for his breeder. The wife initially said that the dog suffered from inflammatory bowel disease, made worse by separation anxiety, and claimed she did not want him returned to his breeder (a USKBTC member) for fear that the stress of shipping him would make him worse. She had even gone as far as to contact other rescue groups, as well as the local animal shelter, where a volunteer told her that a 10 year old dog with health problems would most likely be euthanized! Floranne picked the dog up after Lynn told the owners that the breeder was aware of the situation and wanted her boy back, and reassured them that the breeder had the dog's best interests in mind too. That's when the rest of the story came out. Mowgli was covered with scars and missing part of an ear from being repeatedly attacked by the family's younger dog, a Lab mix they had adopted from a shelter three years earlier. The wife admitted that the younger dog was better with the kids—she would play ball with them in the yard while Mowgli just wanted to follow the adults around the house. He also had an overgrown coat, a large (but thankfully benign) tumor, filthy teeth, ear infections, and corneal scarring from untreated dry-eye. But no signs of IBD or separation anxiety. Gee, anybody else think that the real reason they didn't want Mowgli's breeder involved was that they were embarrassed?

The Philadelphia Club was notified in late September about a 10 year old Kerry in a New Jersey shelter. The KBTC posted information about Duffy on their website, and notified the former USKBTC member whom they believed was the breeder. In the meantime, another rescue group got the dog out.

And a Couple Final Things A quick reminder to Club members and Chapter Club Rescues who want Charitable Funds to reimburse them for rescue expenses: Please, make sure you have the new owners sign a USKBTC Rescue adoption agreement before they take the dog, and follow all relevant procedures in our Rescue Policy. Receipts for vet bills and other reimbursable expenses, as well as any questions, should be sent to me. You can also choose to take a tax write off for any donated rescue expenses/goods and services, including vet bills, transport, phone calls, food, grooming, and boarding. Contact the Charitable Funds treasurer for more information.

Finally, as always, I want to thank all the Club members and others who help out with Rescue, whether it be fostering or transport, home visits and follow-up, or donating money and services. But just as important to the welfare of our breed are the breeders and owners who do "proactive rescue." Proactive rescuers are people who, by responsibly caring for and placing their own dogs, and helping other people with theirs, prevent these dogs from becoming rescue statistics. So if you are a responsible breeder or owner; if you train your dog; if you participate in public education events; if you mentor new Kerry owners; or if you have ever made a newcomer to the breed feel welcome, pat yourself on the back, because you are a rescue volunteer!

CONGRATULATIONS JIM COX

On the 17th of November at Langley Air Force Base, USKBTC member Lt Col Jim Cox of Virginia assumed command of the 149th Fighter Squadron of the Virginia Air National Guard. The 149th is the first National Guard unit to fly the high performance F-22 Raptor fighter. The upgraded capability along with a move to Langley AFB is part of the Air Force's Total Force Integration initiative, which spans the entire Air Force mission and represents the service's reality of "One team, one fight, with a shared, disciplined combat focus." The team is made up of Active duty, Air National Guard and Reserve Airmen who work together to accomplish the mission, all wear the same uniform, do the same jobs and help make this Air Force the best in the world. Jim is fully involved in the integration and transition process as 192nd Fighter Wing Detachment 3 Operations Liaison Officer.

WELL DONE JIM!

USKBTC 2007 NATIONAL SWEEPSTAKES JUDGES CRITIQUE

OCTOBER 5 HATBORO

It was an honor to judge sweepstakes on Montgomery County weekend and I thank the club for this special treat. Most importantly, I thank all the exhibitors for the honor of their entries. There's really nothing better than looking at puppies, especially Kerry puppies!

Overall the conditioning and presentation of the puppies was excellent and their owners/handlers should be commended for turning them out so smartly. Coats were varied in type and texture which might be a point for concern but coat is one of those difficult things to judge in a puppy aside from choosing the most representative to the standard on the day. Having said that, I've never seen an overly curly or kinky coat open up into lovely wavy coat with sheen upon maturing, so it might be a good idea to suggest this is an area to watch. Color seemed right on target for most according to their ages, another good thing.

I was impressed with the good mouths on the puppies, one in my memory level, which is, of course, correct according to the AKC standard if not so usual. All and all it looks like the breed is in good shape where mouths are concerned. Eyes too were nice with only a couple of pups leaning toward a lighter eye and only one in my memory with an over large eye.

Heads were quite a bit different over the entry, which might be expected with the different types overall. Here I'll say that we breeders might work toward conforming to the standard a bit more and ignore the popular styles of the day.

Likewise movement was extremely varied and overall my greatest concern in judging. Structure and attitude dictates movement, especially in puppies. However, even taking puppy silliness into consideration, there were several entries extremely narrow throughout and unfortunately moved that way, some even crossing front and rear. There were a number of entries which in movement lifted their front legs up too high due to questionable shoulder placement. Fronts always are difficult to stabilize in selective breeding, but this development should be monitored and discouraged in favor of good reach and drive with legs "skimming" the surface, barely lifting above the ground.

Movement suggests something I'd like to encourage all Kerry exhibitors to consider and that is to stop running your entries around the ring like you're in a race! Some even race their dogs on the up and back. Rarely does this do good service to the exhibit and many times it does extremely ill service.

Temperaments were outstanding, with only one exhibit being a bit shy toward handling upon examination which of course can change with the next show! It is extremely gratifying to judge happy pups and this was certainly the case in my experience.

My eventual Best in Sweeps and Best Opposite were, in my opinion, not exaggerated in size or type, elegant without being too refined, maturing well in color and coat. Both showed themselves well and although on another day I might switch the placements, on this occasion the bitch won me over.

Congratulations and thank you again to all the exhibitors and much luck for continued success!

Ch. Warlord's Scarf Mackenzie HCT

Silver Tier Award

Ch. Adare's The Right Answer RN NAP NJP
Ch. MACH Kerigolf Flower Power CD RE NF

Every Kerry team of handler and dog has a unique story and the owners of this years recipients agreed to share theirs.

Brenda Vogel writes: Blue Bay's Wind Dancer, "Dancer" was recognized as a jewel from the start. Arriving at her new home she was welcomed by all including Seamus, our first Kerry. She is a wonderful companion and has a temperament that is kind and loving. Her energy has diminished only slightly over the past 10 years as she has another running mate, Bates, to help keep her young. Her enthusiasm and ability to learn new things is borne out in her Companion Dog, Rally and Agility titles. She has also tried her paw at fly-ball, herding, lure coursing and tracking. Today she continues to train and compete in obedience. She has truly proven her versatility and capability in many areas of competition, perhaps a once in a lifetime dog.

Jann Lane shares the following: Mackenzie was born August 25, 2000 to Ch. Gaeltacht Fedelm Aduaidh by Ch. Torum's Scarf Michael, in the first litter of pups born in the US after Mick landed from the UK. Kenzie was the smallest and the most shy of the four puppies. That soon ended. She became all Kerry in personality and grew to the top of the standard.

Although I took all the handling classes and attempted to show Kenzie, I soon realized she would be in veteran class before I could put any points on her. She was successfully shown and finished by Bill McFadden in local California shows and received her conformation championship in Del Mar, CA February 2003.

Kenzie had the "attitude" where some days she showed well and other days she was not that interested in showing at all. The only thing that excited her in the ring was if one of the small white toy breeds was showing in the next ring. Not exactly what you want in a conformation show dog. Therefore, she stayed home after finishing, which was our original plan anyway.

Then came the sheep. The sheep were not in our plan. It started as a club fun day in 2005 in Southern California. Judy Vanderford, AKC national herding judge and trainer introduced Kenzie and me to herding and taught us that you are never too old to learn! She told us that Kenzie had great instinct and that we should pursue herding.

We just never expected that Kenzie would love it so much. It has been a real journey for Kenzie and for me. First, two years ago Kenzie got herself a mouthful of wool. Then she quickly learned that it was not necessary and that she could control the sheep with her powerful "Kerry" presence. She has never forgotten that lesson and now works on responding to verbal, non-verbal and whistled commands I give her. We are working together on her next herding title. Kenzie thinks of the sheep as "her sheep" and likes the larger herds best. Working the sheep has given her confidence and a calm that she never had before. Does she still think about not doing what I ask her? Well...yes. After all, she IS STILL a Kerry Blue!

Joy Ellwanger writes: Athena is my first Kerry champion and from my first litter as the breeder/owner. She was always attentive to me and a very smart puppy, therefore appropriately named Athena, the goddess of wisdom. Athena will always be my "Super Dog" as she has proven her trust and willingness to work by my side in anything I have asked of her.

Brian and Dana Kincaid on Daisy: When we first saw six week old Daisy she radiated self-confidence and boundless energy. The little sprite clearly inspired terror in her littermates, though they outmatched her in size. Absolutely fearless, she electrified us by pulling herself up into a perfect sparring position when startled. Closer examination revealed the pretty head and sound structure we sought in a foundation bitch. Though she had snubbed other visitors, Daisy seemed drawn to Bryan. If Daisy sensed that Bryan's gentle, patient nature would perfectly compliment her firebrand temperament, her instinct proved correct. With a slightly lanky build that took time to mature, Daisy was not destined to win at puppy sweeps. Her showy attitude did win her a major at 12 months—quite a surprise at a show we had entered solely as a warm up for Montgomery. At 2.5 years, Daisy finished her championship with ease, going best of breed over specials and then dazzled us by winning the terrier group her first weekend as a special. She enjoyed several more owner-handled successes in the breed and group rings in 2002, ending the year among the top 5 Kerry bitches in breed and group points.

While waiting for Daisy to mature for conformation, Bryan had enrolled her in Agility classes. Because she is hard wired to make her own decisions, Daisy was a challenge to train for off-lead control. Eventually through patient persistence, Bryan convinced Daisy that obeying him was more rewarding than following her own plan. It was something of a marvel then that by the time Daisy and Bryan began competing in early 2003 they gained renown for Daisy's control, focus and rapt attention to her handler. In 2004 Daisy was the #1 Kerry Blue Terrier in Agility and took home the top prize, High Scoring Kerry Blue Terrier in Cluster at the Kimberton All-Terrier Agility Trials. In August 2005, Daisy finished the MACH in St. Louis. The five pups from her only litter, then not quite 12 weeks old, were with us on that happy weekend. Despite a lengthy maternity absence, Daisy again won the coveted Cluster prize for Kerries at Kimberton in October and finished 2005 as the #2 Kerry in Agility. Daisy has created a legacy through her pups, whose achievements may eventually surpass those of their mom.

In late 2006 Bryan and Daisy tried out Rally

Obedience and found quick success. Over the next few months Daisy completed the RN, RA and RE titles and is now working on the RAE. Rally-O provided a seamless transition from the fast paced excitement of agility to the more restrained attitude of obedience. Alert and energetic, Daisy scintillates in the obedience ring. She finished her first obedience title in June 2007. Daisy's deep connection with her handler helped her qualify on every attempt in obedience and rally competition thus far and earned her a number of placement ribbons along the way.

We are pleased that Daisy's conformation championship was the bare beginning of her competitive career. She has earned at least one title in each of the past six calendar years—a total of fourteen in all. Daisy thrives on adventure and competition. As long as she delights in performance events we will give her the opportunity to do what she loves best.

Thanks to all of this year's handlers/owners for sharing a bit of the story behind the titles. Kerry Blue Terriers and their owners continue to demonstrate the breed's considerable talents as all around terriers, earning a firm position among what might be seen as more traditional performance breeds, not to mention working dogs. Those who've owned the breed are convinced that there's little a Kerry can NOT accomplish within the sphere of canine abilities. Their moderate size, physical strength and agility along with a quick intelligence qualifies them as perhaps the most versatile workers in the terrier world.

Daisy exiting the tunnel

Much good luck for continued success in both conformation and performance sports for the coming year!

Fun at Kimberton!

The Kimberton All-Terrier Trials had another great year, with a strong turnout from the Kerry Blues, especially in agility. We had four days of agility trials, each day hosted by a different national breed club. The Kerries and their owners who competed this year were:

- Jane Eno with Jessie
- Eve Fishell with Tonka, Tide, and Molly
- Lisa Frankland with Katie Rae
- Tracey Fulmer with Bailey and Isobel
- Maggie Hall with Riley
- Bryan and Dana Kincaid with Daisy and Wendy
- Jim and Judy Ricketts with Jenny
- Brenda Vogel with Bates
- Carol Wert with Belle
- Finnegan (sorry, didn't catch his owner's name, though this is the second year I have watched them compete, and I really enjoyed visiting with her)

Because we've been getting such a nice turnout for the agility trials, this year we divided up the awards into three different categories: Excellent, Novice/Open, and Preferred (all levels). We gave out prizes to the top-scoring dogs in each category for each day and overall. Winners were determined by both the number of "Q's" (qualifying scores) and how quickly they completed each qualifying run. These dogs and handlers were the technical winners--but then I am fond of saying that every trained dog, regardless of titles earned or prizes won, is a winner!

Excellent

Tuesday: Katie Rae :-)

Wednesday: Bates

Thursday: Bates (Brenda's dog is a real pistol on the courses--literally a barking bullet!)

Friday: Riley

Overall: Tide (she and Daisy had more Q's than anybody else--consistency pays! Congratulations to Eve Fishell on this well-deserved win)

Katie Rae also finished her Master Agility Excellent title (MX) during the week, while Carol Wert's girl, Belle, earned her Excellent Jumpers (AXJ) with some beautiful, attentive runs. Believe me, it's every bit as much of a thrill and honor to finish a performance title during Montgomery week as it is to complete a championship!

And I have to mention this, because the agility people are just so darn proud--this is the same Riley (Ch. Kallehan's Blue Moon Rising MX MXJ XF) that won a truly impressive veterans class at Montgomery, and then went on to receive an Award of Merit. Could this be because Riley, who turned 9 just five days after Montgomery, is in such great condition from running agility? He certainly did not look or act like a veteran in the ring on Sunday! We do know that much of his success and longevity in the agility ring can be attributed to correct structure, good temperament and health, and that elusive quality we call the heart of a champion. Congratulations to proud owner-handler Maggie Hall and her "nice cobby dog" on an awesome week--spending all day Saturday bathing and trimming Riley after running agility 6 of the previous 7 days turned out to be well worth it! And thank you to all the responsible breeders out there who strive to produce dogs that are beautiful, functional, and well-socialized--we couldn't do this without you! Nearly all of the Kerries that participated have champion parentage, and several are champions themselves.

Novice/Open

There were some nice runs but no qualifiers in the regular Novice or Open classes on Tuesday or Friday. Wendy took home the honors Wednesday and Thursday, as well as overall. She also finished her Novice Agility Jumpers title (NAJ). Wendy is a daughter of Daisy, the first and so far only Kerry to earn both AKC conformation and performance championships. Breeding (and training) definitely tells! Looks like the Kincaids and their Kerries are going to be burning up the agility courses for a while yet.

Preferred (all levels)

Daisy, our breed's only Champion/MACH, and still raring to go after taking time off to recuperate from an injury, came back this year to compete in the preferred classes and swept this category, winning every day and overall by qualifying in six out of eight runs, and easily earning her Novice Preferred (NAP) and Novice Jumpers Preferred (NAJP) titles. It is always an privilege to see Daisy and Bryan working together, though Daisy would certainly never refer to herself as "work!"

Due to entry limits, the Terrier Group obedience and rally trials hosted by the PRTAA on Wednesday, October 3, was represented by only two Kerries, Katie Rae and Jessie. Several other Kerry owners tried to enter but were unable to because the trials had already filled. In fact, some of the top ranked obedience and rally Terriers in the country failed to make the entry. The overall competition was still excellent, but we're all hoping for no entry limits next year! Jessie and Jane Eno did our breed proud by placing second in a very nice Utility B class with a 194 1/2, which also made Jessie the high-scoring Kerry in the trial. Katie Rae earned a qualifying score in Open B, as well as a "double Q" towards her RAE in the rally trial.

Thank you to everyone who donated cash to the obedience/performance events fund, or contributed specific items for prizes. Thanks to the generosity of these people, we were able to award very nice prizes to our top-scoring dogs and offer dog toys to all the Kerries who participated. We hope to see more Kerry people next year, whether you are there to compete or just to watch! The Kimberton show site is in the Valley Forge area, just a short distance from the Devon site and easily accessible from the PA turnpike. Please plan on joining us!

Shedding Light on Lyme Disease

1) What is Lyme Disease?

a. Lyme Disease is a bacterial infection caused by spirochete bacteria known as Borrelia burgdorferi. Because Lyme Disease is relatively new in dogs, there are still some facts experts are unsure about, including how to interpret test results and how to treat the affected dogs. According to the CDC, Lyme disease is the most commonly reported vector-borne disease in the United States. Also, there has been a trend of increasing incidence in endemic areas as well as geographic spread to new areas over the last few years. Lyme Disease can affect any mammal species.

2) What symptoms will the dog exhibit?

a. When Borrelia burgdorferi organisms enter the mammalian host via a tick bite, the spirochetes initiate an infection that develops slowly over weeks and months. Periods with no obvious illness alternate with periods during which the patient shows mild to severe clinical signs. During this same time, the organisms establish a persistent infection that the immune system is unable to eliminate. As a result, the veterinarian is often confronted with two canine patient populations. The "classic" Lyme disease patient presents with mild to severe signs of the disease. On the other hand, many apparently healthy and asymptomatic animals are brought in for other reasons and the infections are discovered accidentally when the veterinarian screens for possible infections. It is reasonable to wonder if an individual dog's stoicism may effectively mask the clinical signs brought on by Lyme disease, particularly in breeds of dogs known for stoicism (i.e. the Kerry Blue Terrier)

b. Clinical signs develop in only about ten percent of infected dogs, meaning a dog can test positive for Lyme and remain asymptomatic! When they do occur (usually two to five months after the tick bite), the most common documented symptom is lameness (due to polyarthritis, followed by enlarged lymph nodes (lymphadenopathy), anorexia, lethargy and fever. Less common syndromes associated with Lyme disease include renal disease (Lyme nephritis), heart disease (myocarditis) and neurological disease. Since our dogs cannot verbally describe their symptoms, it is not known whether or not dogs get the devastating recurrent disease syndromes typical of humans infected with Lyme.

c. Statistically, roughly ninety percent of cases of canine patients with Lyme disease present to the veterinarian with signs of limping (usually only one leg), accompanied by lymph node swelling in the affected limb and temperature of 103 degrees. Under experimental conditions, dogs become intermittently lame due to a severe inflammatory response in the synovial membrane of the joint closest to the tick bite. The limping usually progresses over three to four days from mild to complete disuse of the painful leg. Once the bacteria has spread in the dog's body, it can progress within two to three days from mild discomfort in one limb to the point where the dog is in such muscle and joint pain it will refuse to move. It is important to note that the "bull's eye" rash or erythema migrans, which is typical in the human patient is not commonly found in canine patients. Also important to note is that prompt diagnosis and treatment with antibiotics can cure the dog before permanent joint or nerve damage occurs.

d. Lyme disease should always be suspected when a dog ran or played normally a few days ago, has had no trauma or previous arthritic symptoms and suddenly displays lameness with swollen lymph nodes. However, just as in human medicine, Lyme disease is called "The Great Imitator" because it has often been mistakenly diagnosed when another disorder is present, such as an autoimmune disease, lymph tissue cancer, Blastomycosis or septicemia. Therefore, it is imperative that the vet rule out other possible causes of the dog's symptoms while continuing to consider Lyme as the possible culprit.

3) How prevalent is Lyme Disease in dogs?

a. Lyme Disease has been reported in forty-eight states with the Northeastern and Midwestern states accounting for the majority of cases. Only ten percent of dogs infected with Lyme Borrelia burgdorferi develop clinical signs of disease. Up to seventy percent of dogs that live in the northeastern and midwestern states in the U.S. have serum antibodies to Lyme Disease. Statistically, fifty percent of dogs in the northeast and Midwest are infected annually.

4) How do dogs get Lyme Disease?

a. Dogs are infected with Borrelia burgdorferi bacterium when bitten by an infected tick. At least three known species of ticks can transmit Lyme Disease. However, the most common one responsible for transmitting the disease is the Ixodes Scapularis tick, commonly known as the Black-Legged or Deer tick. These ticks are much smaller than the common dog tick-about the size of a poppy seed. The picture below demonstrates the size differences between the Deer tick and the common dog tick, with a pencil used for size comparison.

Dog ticks and black-legged ticks compared to a pencil

b. Not all Black-Legged ticks harbor these bacteria. In areas of the northeastern and midwestern states,

Dog Ticks	Black-Legged Ticks
A. Engorged female	D. Larvae
B. Female	E. Nymphs
C. Male	F. Males
	G. Females
	H. Engorged female

where Lyme disease is most prevalent, only twenty-five to fifty percent of ticks were infected with Borrelia burgdorferi. However, since the only way to be sure which ticks are infected is to have them analyzed in a lab, the safest thing is to consider all ticks as potentially infected.

c. At the time of the tick bite, the spirochete bacteria reside in the tick's gut. Stimulated by the blood meal, the spirochetes begin to migrate to the tick's salivary glands. The bacteria are then injected into the dog with the saliva from the tick as it feeds on the dog's blood. Studies have shown that it takes twelve to twenty-four hours for the organisms to transfer from the tick's mid-gut to the host. If the tick is removed before it has been attached for that long, it cannot transmit the bacteria to the dog.

5) How is Lyme disease diagnosed?

a. With the recent advance of a reliable in-hospital test kit, the popular "blue-dot" or "snap" test offers results quickly and inexpensively. The SNAP 3DX test (IDEXX laboratories, Portland, ME) for example, detects antibodies within 35 days of tick exposure and remains elevated for an additional 530 days. This test is reported to have a sensitivity of 92% and a specificity of 100%. This test shows infection but does not verify disease.

b. The definitive way to diagnose infections is through culture of the bacteria, usually via skin biopsy samples taken close to the site of tick attachment. Spirochetal organisms are rarely detected in blood samples.

c. Polymerase chain reaction (PCR) testing has been found to be more specific and less labor intensive than culturing of tissue samples. However, negative PCR results do not exclude an infection because the very few DNA copies of the organisms are often not numerous enough to be detected in all samples.

d. Therefore, four criteria are generally considered important in establishing the diagnosis of Lyme disease:

- 1) History of exposure to ticks (typically in an area where Lyme is endemic-although this theory is changing now that Lyme has been reported in forty-eight states!)
- 2) Typical clinical signs of Lyme borreliosis—arthritis in one or more joints, characterized by pain, swelling and lameness
- 3) Positive Lyme serology (specific antibodies against Borrelia burgdorferi are found in the dog's blood)
- 4) A prompt response to antibiotic therapy

6) How is Lyme disease treated?

a. Antibiotics such as the tetracyclines, penicillins and macrolides are very effective in improving the clinical symptoms for the patient but usually fail to totally eliminate the infection. Antibiotics must be given for four weeks. Corticosteroids (i.e. prednisone) should be used only cautiously and always in combination with antibiotics.

7) How can Lyme disease be prevented?

a. Lyme disease can be prevented by the elimination of ticks from the environment, removing ticks from the dog within twelve to twenty-four hours of attachment, by using chemicals on the dog to repel or kill the ticks when they try to attach or by vaccination.

8) How can ticks be eliminated from the environment?

a. To answer this question, one must understand the life cycle of the tick. The tick's life cycle includes four stages; the egg, larvae, nymph and the adult. This life cycle requires two years to complete.

- 1) Adult ticks lay their eggs in late summer or early fall, typically depositing them in a heavy layer of leaves or other mulch.
- 2) Larval ticks hatch in early spring and attach themselves onto tiny rodents, typically the vole or white-footed mouse (which also tends to live in the heavily mulched areas). The larval ticks ingest the Borrelia burgdorferi bacteria while feeding on these tiny rodents, who harbor the bacteria in their bodies.
- 3) In late spring, the larvae mature into the six-legged nymph ticks. It is during this stage of the tick's life (usually May through August) that it is most likely to transmit the bacteria to any available mammal, including the dog. It is important to note that at this stage, the nymphal tick is much smaller than the head of a straight pin, so is very hard to see with the naked eye. Since the tick's presence on the dog and even its bite cause no pain or itching, it often remains attached there, undetected, long enough to complete its blood-meal before it drops off days later to mature into the next stage.
- 4) In summer, the nymphal tick matures into the adult, which will lay its eggs later in the summer, starting the cycle all over again.

b. So, to eliminate the ticks, we must first eliminate the small rodents they feed on. This can be accomplished by clearing out all mulch in the late summer and early fall. This would break the life cycle at the larval stage, thus preventing the ticks from establishing themselves on your property.

c. To break the cycle at the nymph and/or adult stage, there are safe and effective insecticides that can be used in the dog's usual environment. In addition, there are several chemicals that can be used on the dogs to kill or repel the ticks before they get the chance to inject the bacteria into the dog. It is important to note that these agents will kill the tick only after it is on the dog. The longer the tick is attached and biting, the greater the risk of transmission of bacteria IF the tick is actually harboring the bacteria in its gut. Also, no repellent can be expected to keep every single tick off a dog! One word of caution; more is not always better...if you're using a topical spot-on treatment, check with your veterinarian before also applying a spray, dip, shampoo or collar.

- i. Frontline Plus is available as a liquid spot-on application or as a spray. It is applied to the dog's skin and spreads through the skin's oil layer. K9Advantix is another prescription anti-tick medication that also repels mosquitoes and fleas.

Sprays, shampoos, collars, powders and dips are often also used (in these ingredients, it seems that permethrin is more effective than pyrethrin). Some vets feel that tick collars containing the product Amitraz work well.

- ii. For more information on pesticides, check with the Environmental Protection Agency (www.epa.gov).

9) How can the tick population be kept to a minimum on the dog without the use of pesticides?

a. Examine the dog after any outdoor excursions and carefully pick off any ticks you find, using small tweezers to grasp the tick as close to the dog's skin as possible and gently pull away from the skin. Be careful not to crush the tick. After removal, cleanse the skin with antiseptic.

b. Avoid fields of high grass and weeds as much as possible, especially during late spring through early fall while the ticks are searching for their blood meals.

c. Remember that it takes the bacteria twelve to twenty-four hours to migrate from the tick's gut to its saliva and into the dog. Any tick removed before it's been attached for that length of time cannot infect your dog, even if it is carrying the Borrelia burgdorferi bacteria!

10) What about vaccines?

a. Currently, two types of vaccines are available to veterinarians. Both types of vaccine produce antibodies that attack the bacteria in the tick and block its transmission to the dog.

b. The first group of vaccines is more accurately called "bacterins". Bacterins are produced from bacteria grown in cultures that are then chemically or physically inactivated. The second group of vaccines available relies on recombinant OspA. (OspA stands for "outer surface protein A") This is a lipoprotein expressed by the bacteria when the tick is feeding on a mammal. When the vaccine-initiated antibodies to the OspA are produced by the dog, these antibodies bind to the surface of the bacteria in the gut of the tick, thus preventing the bacteria from migrating to the saliva glands of the tick. Therefore, the bacteria are "stuck" in the gut of the tick and cannot infect the dog. Unfortunately, antibody levels of both vaccines tend to peak shortly and drop off during the following months, so yearly vaccination for Lyme disease is recommended by many vets in endemic areas of the country.

A Word from Charitable Funds...

As many of you know the US Kerry Blue Charitable Fund was established in 2002. Its purpose was to serve the Kerry Blue Terrier in four important areas:

1) Rescue Fund – this fund supports grants used to provide Kerry Blue Terrier rescue services.

2) Health and Genetics Fund - this fund makes grants in support of research in areas of health and genetics of particular importance to the Kerry Blue Terrier.

3) Education Fund – the education fund supports education of all those interested in the Kerry Blue Terrier including publications, websites, and seminars.

4) General Fund – donations to this fund are used to support the work of the other funds through internal grants to those funds. Undesignated gifts will initially be held in this fund.

Since the Fund was established we have worked diligently to build the assets of the Funds while undertaking major support of the PNA Research being done at the University of Missouri. To date we have awarded over $20,000 in grants to support Health and Genetics, Education, and Rescue. This is quite impressive, since our Fund is relatively new compared to other Parent Clubs whose equivalent organizations are often decades older than ours.

Our current objective is to continue to grow fund assets while undertaking occasional substantial support such as the PNA Grant. We believe the real key to long term growth will be planned giving that includes the Funds in the wills of our members. Other comparable organizations have used this method as the key to growing their assets. The reality is that we must grow our financial resources substantially in order to having a meaningful impact and that means it will take many years to be in a position to have a significant impact on our core areas.

You can help by considering making the Funds one of the recipients of your estate. In addition, support an area of interest today. We have grown our asset base through small gifts and that will be crucial to our future.

Feel free to contact any Board member for more information on how you can make a difference!

Getting Started In Sheepherding: Selecting a Trainer

By Jann Steel Lane, Ph.D
USKBTC Herding

All this talk about sheep and how well our Kerries can herd!
How do I get started?

Well, as you know, in January 2007, the Kerry Blue Terrier was officially approved to receive herding titles for tests and trials from our own AKC (akc.org) for sheep, ducks, cattle and goats. Previously, the other organization with which you may be familiar, which previously recognized the Kerry Blue Terrier for herding titles, is the American Herding Breed Association (AHBA) (ahba-herding.org).

Currently, both organizations offer trials and tests, just as we see in conformation. Now, we have to train ourselves and our Kerries, and that is the hard part. Even before we train them, we need to instinct test them with a trainer. How do we find a trainer? That is what this article will address. First, let us clarify some basic facts about herding and our fantastic breed, the Kerry Blue Terrier.

"Handlers" v. "Trainers"

In herding, it is more common to take your own dog into the sheep arena. Although there are "professional handlers," they are not as common in herding because dogs tend to work better for you, as an owner, than they do for someone else.

"Trainers" are different. You will need to hire a trainer to train "yourself" to train your dog. Your dog has the herding instinct. You do not have any instinct. It takes no time to figure this one out. You will not have a clue as to what you are doing. Your Kerry will gather beautifully, drive the sheep, flank the sheep, with no training, then have a 'hay day' splitting them for fun and then running after the one sheep that got away.

You may think you are having a stroke, walking backwards, sideways, and will wonder if that 150 lb ewe plans on taking you down. All of them are ewes and there are no rams or you probably would be taken down and from behind, very quickly! The ewe does not plan on tripping you up, by the way, but may run into you, if you do not get out of her way. You also need to know that sheep are not like horses, if you have ever ridden a horse. Sheep do not "avoid" people. They run through you. Learning to step aside is critical, at the last moment. This will save you many bruises. You will become the sheep's friend and protector, as in Shepherd, or Shepherdess, they will look to you to protect them from that wolf- like creature. It will all work out.

Selecting a Trainer

Selecting Your Trainer is extremely important for many reasons. The most important reason is due to our breed's style of herding. Our breed primarily uses their body to herd, rather than their eye. Their style is called "loose eyed." Before you think it is a defect or a negative, know that it is really a very positive thing when you see your Kerry herd with the power of their presence. I have seen 30 Kerries instinct test with large, heavy, crossbred sheep and not one hesitated and questioned a Kerry moving them. That is the power of our dog's presence. Although our breed may use some "eye" to herd, they predominantly use their body and presence to balance the stock to the handler to the obstacle. It will make you proud to see this. It all happens magically from your dog's genetics.

Ask your self this one question.

If you were hiring a professional handler for the conformation ring, would you hire a handler who had only shown toy breeds, even if he or she had won many Best in Shows at Westminster and Eukanuba? If the answer is "no," think of "why?" Did you think, because of the Size? Coat? Temperament? Movement? Familiarity with the type of dog we have? All of the above?

Style of Herding: Loose Eye v. Strong Eye

If you have not seen our USKBTC Herding video, you need to see it. We showed it last year at Montgomery. We hope to have it up on our website soon, so many more members and others can see this video. The "eye" is called "loose" or non-eyed because the style is to use the body rather than the "eye" to move livestock. The breed that uses the "strong eye" is the Border Collie. That is why they are called a strong-eyed herding breed; you may have seen them crouch down and crawl toward stock in a stalking style. That is their style of herding, to control the stock; our dogs use their body language to control stock. Two very different types of herding. Both very important; both very effective and very necessary in controlling and moving stock. Stockmen use both types of dogs to move stock.

Other breeds that are termed "loose-eyed" are Briards, German Shepherds, Polish Lowlands, Bouviers, Belgian Tuvians, in fact, all other herding dogs are considered either medium or loose eyed. Only the Border Collie is termed 'strong eyed' in herding style. It is not a positive or negative description; it is a "fact" that describes a herding style, just like movement or structure defines a dog. It is generally recommended that the trainer you select should be familiar and have worked with 'loose eyed' herding dogs, before you agree to instinct test your Kerry.

The trainer must be able to "read" our Kerries' body language, just as you do, in the ring, as some Kerries have more prey drive than others do. As you progress in sheepherding, you will find that 'controlled prey drive' is what defines herding. You want prey drive in your Kerry. It is just that we do not want too much prey drive displayed at the beginning of herding. In time, your Kerry will learn how much to use. This is the reason we recommend a trainer who is familiar with the same herding style as our breed. Prey drive should be managed or kept in control, just as handlers manage our dogs, as they spar in the breed ring in conformation competition.

When you interview a potential trainer on the phone, here are some questions to get you started:

Questions for Selecting a Trainer

- Do you provide instinct testing? Ask them to describe what the instinct testing experience will be like for you.
- What type of facility do you have? Is it enclosed? Is it fenced completely?
- Does this trainer expect obedience training? (Most do not require, but a recall and a down are very helpful; my dog did not have either and she is herding today, so it is possible)
- What breeds have you instinct tested? (Listen for loose-eyed breeds to be named) if they say "all" and will not list---or are vague--keep looking.

Cost? $50-$75 is average for an hour - you should receive an intro to sheepherding;

What type of stock? Sheep/Goats (no ducks--you will have pate)

Do not agree for the first one you speak to or say you will get back to them with a date; Call three and pick the best.

The trainer should be encouraging to you as a terrier owner, not 'discouraging' or skeptical; if this happens to you, call the next one on your list or call me and I will support you; unfortunately, there are some who still do not accept that Kerry Blues can herd.

So Herders, select a good trainer; instinct test your Kerry, get yourself some sheep, learn how to herd, then you will love this sport, because your dog loves it. Remember though, that you have terriers. Some days they will love it and some days they will decide they may love it a little less that day and not work very hard for you, then they will love it again next time and then you will love sheepherding, just as we all love our Keries.

Holiday Foods Can Upset Your Pet

(The following article is reprinted with the permission of Dr. Chris Beuoy of the University of Illinois, College of Veterinary Medicine at Urbana. We thank them for allowing us to post this information on the USKBTC website.)

The time for celebrating the holiday with our friends and family is here, and the center of many celebrations is food. We consider pets part of our family, so we naturally want them to share in the celebration. "People want to share their holiday dinners with their pets because they love their pets," explains Dr. Marcella Ridgway, veterinary internal medicine specialist at the University of Illinois Veterinary Teaching Hospital in Urbana. Unfortunately, rich foods that are common during the holidays can trigger gastrointestinal problems for a dog or cat, and too many treats from the dinner table can ruin the party.

Dr. Ridgway explains that there are several reasons that table foods can cause problems. "Holiday foods are often high in fats, sugar and unusual spices or other ingredients and are not always healthy for people. They are certainly not the types of foods most pets are used to getting."

Gastritis, which is an irritation of the stomach lining, and enteritis, which is an intestinal inflammation, can be triggered when an animal eats food it's not accustomed to. "With these conditions," Dr. Ridgway explains, "a pet will feel lousy, and may have vomiting and diarrhea, which makes everyone else unhappy--especially if you just had the carpets cleaned for your holiday guests." Also, these conditions can sometimes become quite serious, requiring hospitalization and intensive care therapy.

Foods high in fat can also trigger a serious condition in dogs known as pancreatitis, or an inflammation of the pancreas. Pancreatitis may be triggered after a fatty meal because the body releases a substance called cholecystokinin, or CCK, in response to ingested fat. CCK signals the pancreas cells to release enzymes that can digest fats and other nutrients, such as proteins. Normally, the pancreas cells release their digestive enzymes in a very systematic, orderly fashion, to protect itself and surrounding organs from the destructive properties of the enzymes.

When bombarded with high levels of CCK after a high fat meal, pancreas cells may release their enzymes more haphazardly, and these digestive enzymes can go where they are not supposed to, self-digesting the pancreas and causing intense inflammation. "We do seem to see more pancreatitis cases around the holidays," says Dr. Ridgway. "Pancreatitis can be triggered by as little as one fatty meal, even in pets that have previously been fed table scraps without developing problems." Since pancreatitis can be life threatening, it's crucial to avoid foods which may trigger pancreatitis and to seek early medical care if it occurs. You should consult a veterinarian if your pet is vomiting, has diarrhea or abdominal pain. Pets may show signs of gastrointestinal upset or pancreatitis several hours to several days after the offending meal.

Dr. Ridgway recommends feeding treats specially made for pets, rather than table foods, when making your pet a part of holiday festivities. However, if you really feel the need to share your food, she recommends sharing less fatty foods, such as a lean morsel of turkey or ham.

"Another key is portion size," she points out. "Dogs and cats don't notice the size of the treat they get; they are more interested in the fact they are getting a treat and interacting with their owner." Even a piece of food the size of a thumbnail will be appreciated by a pet as a special treat.

There are other holiday food hazards to watch for beside gastrointestinal inflammation. Small sharp bones, especially those found in poultry, can pose a choking hazard or may puncture the gastrointestinal tract.

Strings that are used to tie roasts and birds are soaked with tasty juices and can be especially attractive to cats. When swallowed, these strings pose a serious hazard, and may require surgical removal if they become lodged in the intestines.

Don't give your animal food that has been sitting out for a while. Meats, poultry and egg- or mayonnaise-based foods left at room temperature over 40 minutes can harbor bacteria, and neither people nor pets should eat these foods.

Also, if pets get into the garbage they can get in to fat, bones, strings and other things that can make them sick, so Dr. Ridgway recommends that a household with pets have a pet-proof garbage can with a secure lid.

For more information on gastritis, enteritis, pancreatitis or other gastrointestinal conditions, consult your veterinarian.

COMMUNICATIONS

The USKBTC Communications Committee is a brand new committee dedicated to the purpose of educating the public about our wonderful breed in many different venues.

The Committee will be involved in producing Kerry Blue Terrier promotional material such as display banners and brochures. These will be available to members through the USKBTC for their individual use.

"Life with a Kerry..." is the first of our endeavors. These display banners measure 18" x 35" and are printed on indoor/outdoor vinyl in 2 colors. There are grommets in each corner for hooks and can be displayed side-by-side or under each other. They can be shipped to any member who wishes to use them. We ask that they be returned in a timely manner and undamaged. Please look for a notice on the USKBTC website as to when they are available.

The Committee welcomes suggestions and ideas from any club members at any time.

*Life with a Kerry

A Kerry Blue Terrier will stand out in a crowd with its distinctive nonshedding bluegrey coat, silhouette, and keen terrier attitude. Owning a Kerry Blue Terrier is a lifetime commitment since this dog can live well past 12 years of age. Your commitment begins by finding a reputable breeder. This breeder should answer any questions and help with grooming, training and health issues. They should also provide AKC registration papers. Both breeder and owner have the same agenda, and that is the well being of their Kerry. Look for reputable breeders through the AKC or the United States Kerry Blue Terrier Club. Breeders in good standings are listed on the website.

Living with a Kerry Blue Terrier should be a partnership based on love, respect and trust. A Kerry Blue terrier's natural intelligence, mischievous wit and determination will blossom with proper training, grooming and a structured caring environment. Keries are not for everybody. Keries often display their assertiveness around other dogs. It takes a person with a gentle but firm hand and a healthy respect towards the dog to enable a Kerry to flourish in the household. In return a Kerry will be a loyal loving companion.

Originally used in Ireland as an all around farm dog, a Kerry Blue Terrier's natural instincts and energy suit him well for a variety of "jobs", such as conformation, agility, obedience, herding, and family activities. A happy Kerry is one who gets plenty of exercise on a daily basis. A fenced in yard will keep your Kerry safe from his natural predator tendencies around squirrels and the like and still allow him to run and play. A Kerry thrives on human companionship, and loves to be in a home where he is part of the family.

Holiday treats for your best four-legged friends from Terrierific Temptations . . .

Steak and Egg Biscuits

2 cups whole wheat flour
1 ½ cups corn meal
¾ cup ground beef (cooked and chopped fine)
1 cup scrambled eggs (3-4)
¼ plus cup vegetable oil (slightly more)
1 cup water
½ teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 350°. Combine flour, cornmeal and salt in large bowl and mix. Add burger, cooked eggs, oil and water. Roll dough on slightly floured surface to ½ inch thickness. Cut into shapes. Transfer to ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 15-25 minutes for small biscuits, 25-35 minutes for larger biscuits. Cool; store in airtight container and refrigerate.

Tuna Dog Cookies

2 cups cornmeal
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 (8-ounce) can tuna in oil, drained
¾ cup water
2/3 cup vegetable oil

Preheat oven to 350°. Combine cornmeal, flour and salt in large bowl and mix. Add drained tuna, water and oil and mix thoroughly. Roll dough out onto a lightly floured surface to about ½ inch thickness. Cut with coolie cutter and transfer to ungreased baking sheet. Bake for 15-25 minutes for small (1-inch) or 30-35 minutes for large (3-inch) biscuits. Transfer to rack to cool and store in airtight container and refrigerate.

THE UNITED STATES KERRY BLUE TERRIER CLUB CODE OF ETHICS

This document defines the ethical standards to which we ascribe as a condition of membership in the United States Kerry Blue Terrier Club (USKBTC). Membership is a privilege conferred by the Board of Governors, acting for the Membership, upon those individuals who meet the high standards set forth in the Club Constitution and Bylaws and this Code. As members, we are individually charged with complying with this code and demanding similar compliance of all other members. We must hold the interest of the Kerry Blue Terrier superior to our own in exercising the responsibilities that accompany the privileges of membership.

I. RESPONSIBILITIES AS A MEMBER

- Members of the USKBTC, as Stewards to the breed, have the obligation to protect and serve the best interests of the Kerry Blue Terrier at all times. A member's every action should reflect credit on themselves, the USKBTC and, above all, the Kerry Blue Terrier.
- The approved standard for the breed is the fundamental imperative guiding our actions. Members have the obligation to protect and serve these standards as a condition of membership.
- Members must be familiar with and comply with the rules of the American Kennel Club (AKC); the Constitution and By-laws of the USKBTC; and (as appropriate) the rules established by any member club of the USKBTC.
- Members will observe the highest standards of conduct and sportsmanship at all times. Whether as a breeder, exhibitor, or spectator, they shall conduct themselves in a manner that reflects positively on the Kerry Blue Terrier, dogs in general, and the sport of showing dogs.

- Members shall maintain the highest standards of health and sanitation for their own Kerry Blue Terriers, as well as for any other animals in their possession or entrusted to their care. They shall demand the same high standards of others, members and non-members alike.

II. RESPONSIBILITIES AS A BREEDER

A Breeder shall:

- Be guided at all times by the approved standard for the Kerry Blue Terrier and shall consider breeding only those specimens that conform to the standard.
- When contemplating breeding a litter or providing the services of a stud dog, strive toward maintaining breed type and producing dogs of exceptional quality, temperament, and condition. Breeding or supporting breeding to a lesser standard is not acceptable.
- Use for breeding only those dogs that are healthy and free from serious congenital and hereditary defects. Refrain from further use, any bitch or stud dog that has developed such a health problem or produced any serious inherited defects detrimental to the offspring and the overall well being of the breed.
- Not use a bitch for breeding prior to reaching eighteen (18) months of age (preferably 24 months) or older than eight (8) years of age. A bitch should not be bred more than two (2) out of three (3) consecutive heat cycles, nor produce more than five (5) litters in her lifetime. Recognizing the variations in heat cycles and sizes of litters, valid exceptions may exist, however it is incumbent on the breeder to exercise good judgment in exercising such exceptions.
- Not sell puppies to pet shops either outright or on consignment; supply puppies for auctions, raffles, or other such activities; refrain from selling to persons whose intention (either known or suspected) is to resell or use the puppy in a breeding program not complying with this code of ethics. The breeder shall ensure that the prospective buyer is prepared to provide the same degree of care required of members of the USKBTC. The Code of Ethics should be provided and discussed with potential buyers as part of a thorough screening process. All buyers should be encouraged to become members of the USKBTC and member clubs.
- Promptly apply for AKC registration of the litter. Puppies should not be sold prior to reaching ten (10) weeks of age (preferably 12 weeks). The sale of every dog shall include a signed registration or registration application (Blue Slip), and a four-generation pedigree. Any exceptions to these requirements, or valid restrictions or limitations imposed as conditions to the sale (e.g., no breeding) must be agreed to in writing by both parties at the time of sale. It is strongly recommended that a written agreement accompany all sales. Buyers should be provided with assistance and support in the setting of ears and in learning proper grooming. If the buyer is not located in the same area, the breeder should make arrangements with another USKBTC member in that area to assist the new owner.
- Provide with each sale, a record of dated and types of immunization given, immunizations required, and veterinary health records. Instructions should be provided, preferably in writing, on diseases and hereditary factors related to the breed, proper medical care, feeding, and grooming. Providing a copy of the current USKBTC Handbook represents a means of conveying this type of information, and is a sound investment on the part of the breeder. No puppy should be sold without either temporary or permanent protection against distemper-hepatitis and parvo. Puppies should have a veterinary examination, and worming if required, before sale.
- Maintain accurate and complete records of stock, matings, pedigrees, show records, and transfers. Breeders are responsible for conducting research on their pedigrees to ensure correct ancestry, accurate spelling of names, and correct registration numbers. Breeders should be familiar with and comply with all record keeping requirements required by the AKC. Litter registration applications must be correct and promptly requested. Individual puppy registration should be completed in a timely manner.
- Shall not engage in false or misleading advertising or other misrepresentations with respect to their own breeding. They shall not malign others by making false or misleading statements regarding another member's dogs, breeding practices, or person. Advertising should not be worded to attract undesirable buyers nor encourage raising dogs for profit.
- Consider the growing problems related to excess dogs ending up in animal shelters and should exercise sound judgment and prudent restraint in their breeding programs. Litters should be limited to numbers that are consistent with achieving a sound breeding program and the best interests of the Kerry Blue Terrier.
- Be prepared to assume lifetime responsibility for any litter produced.

III. RESPONSIBILITIES AS AN EXHIBITOR OR HANDLER

- Act professionally at all times in caring for and exhibiting any dog in your charge.
- Do not engage in any questionable contact with judges prior to exhibiting under them.
- Comply with AKC Rules and Regulations for Dog Shows, Obedience Trials, Field Trials, and The Guidelines for Dog Show Judges.
- Exhibit or handle only those dogs that conform as closely as possible to the approved standard.
- Do not indulge in the practice of making "kennel majors", or exhibiting filler dogs that they know themselves to be unworthy of championships, for the purpose of finishing dogs. Such practices lessen the meaning and value of a championship and do not serve the breed.

IV. ENFORCEMENT

- The USKBTC expects adherence to this Code of Ethics and blatant disregard of these standards will not be condoned. Violations of the standards are not in the best interests of the Club or the breed. Such behavior can serve as a cause of imposing discipline or terminating membership if charges are brought before the Board of Governors in accordance with the procedures as defined in Article VI (Discipline) of the USKBTC Constitution and Bylaws.
- Article VI addresses the specific procedures for proffering charges; the hearing process; and the rights of the parties involved. Each member is expected to be fully familiar with this very important provision of the By-laws.
